The report of the Managing Director

RCN Publishing Company Limited (RCNi) supports the professional development and learning needs of the nursing profession worldwide and is an integral part of the Royal College of Nursing (RCN) Group.

2022 was a successful year for RCNi despite challenging commercial and operating conditions. A return to face-to-face events alongside a series of online webinars enabled RCNi to expand support for career development and learning for the nursing profession.

Advertising and sponsorship also performed strongly, delivering on our strategy to diversify our income. The personal subscription market remains challenging due to the squeeze on household budgets, below inflation nursing pay and economic uncertainty. However, a focus on engagement and the value of RCNi Plus has helped to stabilise personal subscription income. Institutional subscription income remains strong and is growing.

One of our key developments was the successful launch of RCN Learn. RCNi worked alongside the RCN to develop RCN Learn, a learning portal for the nursing profession. In India, we began to see RCNi Learning India take off in the institutional market. RCNi Learning India is our first foray into providing tailored learning outside of the UK. Work also took place on improving our careers site, to make it easier for the nursing profession to find jobs and develop their careers.

On behalf of the RCN Group, we hosted RCN Nursing Awards, celebrating the very best of nursing excellence. Our awards recognised the exceptional contribution of the whole nursing team and were well received by attendees and sponsors.

Work took place to review ways of working to reduce RCNi's carbon emissions and to build sustainability into all that we do. We will continue to focus on how we can minimise our impact on the environment, as we journey towards becoming a net zero organisation.

Costs were carefully controlled across all aspects of our business and we continued to review platforms, processes and systems to streamline operations. Our focus on high quality products and services, cost control and generation of new income, resulted in a better-than-expected surplus for 2022. Our surplus will enable RCNi to continue to invest in products and services to support the nursing profession.

I would like to thank RCNi staff for their continued flexibility, engagement and commitment during 2022 – as they are the powerhouse behind all that we do.

Strategic report for the year ended 31 December 2022

Review of the business

Business overview

RCNi (trading name for RCN Publishing Company Limited) is a digital health information company with a portfolio of nursing journals, learning and decision support tools, career services and events to support the nursing profession to deliver best practice and achieve their potential.

In line with our strategic aims, 2022 saw continued diversification of revenue streams and a slowing down of the decline in personal subscriptions, due to a focus on customer engagement. We significantly expanded our virtual events programme to deliver learning and education in key areas such as sustainability, menopause and wound care. Digital advertising and sponsorship performed strongly, and this will be a key focus for 2023.

RCNi adopted a hybrid approach to work in 2022, and we will continue to embed this as a way of working in 2023. ESG continues to be a key focus for RCNi – as we shape and develop the organisation.

Financial review

In 2022, the business achieved revenue of £11,946,825 (2021: £11,294,826) and achieved profits before tax of £1,577,388 (2021: £1,683,961).

RCNi trading income has increased by 6% compared to prior year (2021: 12% increase). This is driven by the strong performance from exhibitions and other communications activities.

The 2022 results demonstrate the management focus on cost control, streamlining the business and prioritising digital income growth.

The directors recommend the payment of £1,018,606 (2021: £1,096,028) in dividend. Net assets at 31 December 2022 were £5,455,792 compared to £5,278,562 in 2021. Total cash and cash on deposit was £6,383,431 (2021: £5,187,856).

Objectives

Our vision is to inspire the nursing profession to achieve its potential and deliver best clinical practice to improve patient care and outcomes.

To achieve this vision, our focus is on providing education, learning and decision support content, driving digital engagement and using data analytics to provide insight into what works for our readers and customers. Strategic partnerships will continue to be important to expand our reach and impact worldwide. Working closely with the RCN in 2023, RCNi will continue to inform and address the education, learning and development needs of the nursing profession to provide support for every step of their career.

Principal risks and uncertainties

The major risks to the business in 2023 are the impact of economic uncertainty on individual subscriptions and the risks associated with face-to-face events. In response, RCNi will continue to transform its digital portfolio to meet market needs, invest in data analytics and resource to underpin management decisions.

In 2023 production of RCN Bulletin in print will cease, mitigating against the risk of high paper and distribution costs.

Financial risk management

The following statements summarise the company's policy in managing identified forms of financial risk:

Price risk

The company is profitable and has sufficient reserves to finance its planned activities. Salary rises are negotiated and agreed locally with staff. Raw materials, such as paper, are purchased subject to contracts with suppliers based on current market prices. RCNi's risk register is reviewed and updated monthly by the RCNi Executive Team and with the non-executive directors at each board meeting. RCNi risks are also reviewed by the RCN Group Audit Committee. This proactive approach to risk ensures that risk management is a fundamental part of our day-to-day business.

Credit risk

RCNi has a diverse customer base. The range of customers includes government bodies, NHS bodies, further education institutions, universities, private companies and individuals.

RCNi manages credit risk by deploying several internal controls, including assessing the credit worthiness while performing onboarding processes, regular monitoring of the outstanding debtors, and liaising with customers to understand any change in their financial position.

Liquidity risk

The company has no long-term borrowings. The facility of a short-term overdraft is available when required.

Interest rate cash flow risk

The company does not have any borrowings and therefore the risk from an interest rate hike is minimal. The company does have surplus funds which it is able to place in a short-term deposit account with the company's bankers, however it does not depend on interest income and therefore the risk from interest rate changes is minimal.

Future developments

We will continue to improve operational effectiveness through the automation of business processes and procedures, rationalisation of digital platforms and ensuring that our workforce has the skills required to support RCNi as it continues to pursue its transformation agenda.

Going concern

Scenario planning for the 2023 full year budget was carried out by the management team to consider the financial impact of continuing economic uncertainty and inflationary pressures.

The continued development of RCNi Plus and targeted engagement exercises are specifically designed to address the issue of decline in personal subscriptions revenue. Close monitoring of our business-to-business sectors enables us to ensure our resources are focused in areas of highest growth.

All RCNi staff are enabled to work in an agile manner, either remotely or in the office.

Efforts continue to be made to control costs, with ongoing supplier reviews and to ensure that customers pay in a timely manner.

2022 ended with RCNi achieving above-budget profit and having healthy cash reserves.

Therefore, it is reasonable to consider the business a going concern.

The directors confirm that they have a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future, and therefore the going concern basis of accounting has been adopted in preparation of the annual financial statements.

Directors' responsibilities statement

The directors are responsible for preparing the Annual Report 2022 and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law), including FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland". Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- make judgments and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to
- any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements.
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The directors are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the company's website. Legislation in the UK governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Independent auditor's report to the members of RCN Publishing Company Limited (RCNi)

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of RCN Publishing Company Limited (RCNi) for the year ended 31 December 2022 which comprise the Statement of Income and Retained Earnings, the Statement of Financial Position, the Statement of Changes in Equity and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and UK Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2022 and of its profit for the year then ended
- have been properly prepared in accordance with UK Generally Accepted Accounting Practice
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the Financial Reporting Council's (FRC) Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least 12 months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the directors with respect to the going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The directors are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinion on other matter prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit:

- the information given in the strategic report and the directors' report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements;
- the strategic report and the directors' report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the strategic report or the directors' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept by the company, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the directors' responsibilities statement set out on page 8, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

We identified the greatest risk of material impact on the financial statements from irregularities, including fraud, to be within the recognition of subscription income and override of controls by management. Our audit procedures to respond to these risks included sample testing of income transactions, enquiries of management about their own identification and assessment of the risks of irregularities, sample testing on the posting of journals, reviewing accounting estimates for biases, reviewing regulatory correspondence with HMRC and reading minutes of meetings of those charged with governance.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is available on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

1. Accounting policies

The principal accounting policies are summarised below. They have all been applied consistently throughout the year and to the preceding year.

General information and basis of accounting

RCN Publishing Company Limited is a private company limited by shares and incorporated in the UK and registered in England and Wales under the Companies Act. The address of the registered office is 20 Cavendish Square, London, W1G 0RN. The nature of the group's operations and its principal activities are set out in the strategic report on pages 3 to 5.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, modified to include certain items at fair value, and in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard 102 (FRS 102) issued by the Financial Reporting Council.

The functional currency of RCN Publishing Company Limited is considered to be pounds sterling because that is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the company operates. The financial statements are also presented in pounds sterling.

RCN Publishing Company Limited meets the definition of a qualifying entity under FRS 102 and has therefore taken advantage of the disclosure exemptions available to it in respect of its separate financial statements. Exemptions have been taken in relation to financial instruments, key management personnel and presentation of a cash flow statement.

Turnover

Turnover, less VAT, represents sales to customers at invoiced amounts and, for subscription income, the money received from subscribers for the issues published in the year. Royalty income is recognised on receipt unless it is for the future in which case it is deferred. Most of the turnover is generated in the UK. Income received in advance is deferred based on the actual price per publication multiplied by the number of months paid in advance by subscribers.

Expenditure

Expenditure is recognised on an accruals basis.

Fixed assets

Fixed assets including software, with a value of less than £500 are expensed at acquisition. Fixed assets including software with a value of £500 or above have depreciation provided to write-off the cost, less estimated residual values, evenly over their expected useful lives. It is calculated at the following rates:

Assets in the course of construction are not depreciated until they come into use.

Leasehold improvements	Over the period of the lease
Computer hardware	3 years
Computer software	3 to 5 years
Fixtures, fittings and office equipment	3 to 5 years

Intangible assets

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis over three years.

Going concern

The company's activities, together with the factors likely to affect its future development, performance and position are set out in the Strategic Report. The company's cash position remains strong which is set out in the statement of Financial Position. Cash deposits plus cash at bank have increased compared to those at 31 December 2022 by £1,195,575. The company undertakes a formalised process of budgeting, reporting and review. The Board of Directors has reviewed budgets and forecasts for 2023.

It is reasonable to consider the business a going concern. Please see Report of the Directors on page 6 for further information.

The directors confirm that they have a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Thus they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

Related party transactions

The company has taken advantage of the exemption in FRS 102 from disclosing transactions with The Royal College of Nursing of the United Kingdom and other wholly-owned companies within the group.

Pension costs

A number of the company's employees belong to The Royal College of Nursing of the United Kingdom's (RCN UK) defined benefit pension scheme. As it is not possible to identify the company's share of the underlying assets and liabilities in the scheme, contributions are charged to the profit and loss account as they become payable.

Since 1 November 2013, the RCN UK has set up a defined contribution pension scheme and a number of the company's employees belong to the scheme. The scheme has three levels of employee and employer contribution. This scheme is used to fulfil the auto-enrolment obligations. All new employees and those not in the defined benefit scheme are automatically enrolled into the lowest contribution level. Once in the scheme employees can opt to move to a higher level of contribution. Please see note 18.1 for more information. All employer contributions made to the scheme are charged to the profit and loss account as they become payable.

Where a liability arises on the pension scheme, RCN UK will notify RCN Publishing Company Limited of its share of the liability on an annual basis. This is accrued upon notification. Note 4 outlines the charge for the year.

Joint arrangements

RCNi has a jointly controlled operation with The BMJ, publishing Evidence-Based Nursing. The company accounts for its portion of the turnover and costs relating to this arrangement which is detailed in note 17.

Tax

Current tax, including UK corporation tax and foreign tax, is provided at amounts expected to be paid (or recovered) using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more tax in the future or a right to pay less tax in the future have occurred at the balance sheet date. Timing differences are differences between the amount of reported taxable income and the amount reported on the income statement.

Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date that are expected to apply to the reversal of the timing difference.

Unrelieved tax losses and other deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that, on the basis of all available evidence, it can be regarded as more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying timing differences can be deducted.

Provisions

Provisions for future liabilities are recognised when there is a legal or constructive financial obligation that can be reliably estimated and for which there is an expectation that payment will be made.

Dividend

Dividend distribution to the company's shareholders is recognised as a liability in the company's financial statements in the year in which the dividends are approved by the Board.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised when the company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at transaction price (including transaction costs). The company only has financial assets and liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at their settlement value. Trade and other debtors are recognised at the settlement amount due after any trade discount offered. Prepayments are valued at the amount prepaid net of any trade discounts due. Creditors and provisions are recognised where the company has a present obligation resulting from a past event that will probably result in the transfer of funds to a third party and the amount due to settle the obligation can be measured or estimated reliably. Creditors and provisions are normally recognised at their settlement amount after allowing for any trade discounts due.

2. Critical accounting judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions in applying the Company's accounting policies to determine the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis, with revisions to accounting estimates applied prospectively.

Critical accounting judgements

Critical judgements, apart from those involving estimations, that are applied in the preparation of the financial statements are discussed below.

Pensions

Determining the amount of the company's retirement benefit obligations and the net costs of providing such benefits requires assumptions to be made concerning long-term interest rates, inflation, salary and pension increases, investment returns and longevity of current and future pensioners. Changes in these assumptions could significantly impact the amount of the obligations or the cost of providing such benefits. The company makes assumptions concerning these matters with the assistance of advice from independent qualified actuaries. Details of the assumptions made are set out in note 18.

3. Turnover

Turnover, which is stated net of value added tax, represents the net amounts invoiced during the year, and is derived from the following activities:

Journals	9,557,983	9,631,839

Due to the nature of RCNi's operations and the composition of its board and staff, it is inevitable that transactions will take place with external bodies, trusts and organisations with which board members and/or staff may be associated. RCNi maintains a register of interests in which all such interests are declared, and all transactions are conducted at arm's length and in accordance with the RCN Group financial regulations and usual procurement procedures. £591.11 of payments were made to board members for the reimbursement of incidental expenses during the year (31 December 2021: £575.00).

18. Pension commitments

18.1 RCN Group defined contribution pension scheme

Since 1 November 2013 all new employees were auto-enrolled into a defined contribution scheme. The scheme is a Group Personal Pension plan managed and administered by Standard Life. The scheme has three contribution levels.

Contribution level	Employee	Employee	Employer
	If not salary sacrifice	Salary sacrifice
Level 1	2.4%	3.0%	8.0%
Level 2	4.0%	5.0%	10.0%
Level 3	5.6%	7.0%	12.0%

All new employees are automatically enrolled into level 1 under auto enrolment regulation. Employees may then choose a higher contribution level.

18.2 RCN Group defined benefit pension scheme

The RCN Group operates a defined benefit pension scheme with the assets of the scheme being held in separate trustee administered funds. This scheme was closed to new members with effect from 1 November 2013. Existing active members as at 31 October 2013 can still contribute to the scheme.

As it is not possible to identify the RCNi's share of the underlying assets and liabilities in the scheme on a consistent and reasonable basis, RCNi does not recognise a pension asset or liability, or an actuarial pension reserve on the statement of financial position. Contributions are charged to the statement of income and retained earnings as they become payable.

The share of the RCN UK defined benefit pension scheme assets and liabilities that relate to the company's members of the scheme is not readily available. At the actuarial valuation as at 30 September 2019, the liabilities for RCN Publishing Company Limited members calculated on the discontinuance basis represented 7.5% (2021: 7.5%) of the total liabilities on the same basis.

Employer

From April 2018 to March 2021 the average employer contribution rate was 14.2%. Following the September 2019 actuarial valuation, the average employer contribution rate increased to 15.2% from April 2021. RCNi also made a contribution to the annual deficit lump sum agreed by the parent, an arrangement which ceased in July 2021.

Contributory employees

From 1 November 2013 current members contributions were set out in the schedule of contributions at 6%, 8% or 13% (depending on employee opted retirement age). From 1 April 2020 current member contributions were set at 6.2%, 8.2% or 13.2% (depending on employee opted retirement age). From 1 April 2021 current member contributions rose to 7.2%, 9.2% or 14.2%.
